2020 Delegation to El Salvador

For me, a trip to a country like El Salvador is a bitter sweet experience. The sweet part is spending time with the faith communities and seeing how they put their faith into action by taking care of one another. It puts one in mind of the early Christian communities that St. Paul wrote about.

The Salvadorans freely offered welcome to the stranger and gave us a sense of the importance of developing a loving community. The decade of upheaval caused immense suffering that still lingers, but it gave the people a Saint in Oscar Romero. This man spoke for his people and offered them hope.

The not-so-sweet part is seeing how hard the people have to work for the bare necessities. One can work hard to gain skills or an education and find there are no job opportunities waiting for them. We witnessed how readily people would take advantage of the opportunities to start a small business when offered start up funds and some training. Instead of building walls it would be wonderful if we could help build bridges of opportunity for these people. Oscar Romero followed Jesus’s message of caring for the poor. This should be the same message for all of us.

All should take special care to guard with great diligence the gates of their senses (especially the eyes, ears, and tongue) from all disorder. In everything they should try and desire to give the advantage to the others, esteeming them all in their hearts as better than themselves (Phil. 2:3) and showing exteriorly, in an unassuming and simple religious manner, the respect and reverence befitting each one’s state, in such a manner that by observing one another they grow in devotion, and praise God our Lord.
